Announcing the formation of a five session couples psychotherapy group for parents of children with special needs. The group is designed to offer support to parents with special needs children and to address the inherent marital and parenting challenges through support, information and networking. We are asking for a commitment of five months (five group meetings) participation.

Co led by:

Kathleen Platzman, PhD

Dr. Platzman is a Licensed Psychologist who focuses on both assessment and treatment of infants and children with a wide range of developmental disabilities. She specializes in working with individuals with autistic spectrum disorders and their families. Services offered include infant and child assessment, child and family psychotherapy, treatment planning, consultation to families and schools. She is a member of the national DIR® Institute Faculty and on the boards of the Frazer Center and Hirsch Academy.

Jo Raphael, LCSW

Ms. Raphael is a licensed clinical social worker with a diplomate in social work. She is a DIR® Clinician and serves on the national faculty of the DIR® Institute. Jo works with children, adolescents and families providing treatment, consultation and supervision utilizing DIR®. She is the Editor of the ICDL Newsletter and a consultant to the ICDL.
